

MEET: CHERYL HASKETT

Energetic, Empowering and Practical Facilitator

Cheryl Haskett is passionate about bringing classrooms “alive,” by providing the steps and encouragement to do things differently and overcome today's challenges.

Cheryl believes in the power of partnering and relationship-building based on trust and integrity. Combining this philosophy with her dynamic interpersonal skills and business experience background, she consistently achieves and surpasses the objectives of her clients—from non-profits to Fortune 500 companies.

Expert Trainer and Facilitator

For over a decade, Cheryl has helped clients establish business-boosting connections. With the end goal of sustained behavioural transformation in mind, Cheryl helps people leaders synthesize and identify exactly what they want; and transforms those complex concepts into simple and valuable tools that they can not only understand, but easily apply.

As a trainer and senior facilitator, Cheryl has a talent for reading the energy of a room—whether in a small classroom format, or a room of hundreds of attendees. By personally connecting with participants, Cheryl has carefully moderated difficult but important conversations that employees, managers and leaders are traditionally afraid to have. She has also helped clients realize the possibilities of creating an organizational culture brimming with innovative thinking, no matter how many thinking styles are involved.
